

QTV258 TV Router Smart Your Life

Enjoy easier and smarter living style with QNO QTV!

QNO QTV258 transfer ordinary television to SMART TV. Wirelessly connect to endless offerings of movies, TV shows, music, sports, and information through Internet-based services all through our user-friendly TV Router. QNO QTV258 enables you to share music, movies and photos with other DLNA certified devices across your home network. Streaming system like Wi-Fi Display and AirPlay enable Android or iOS device demonstrate or mirror on television.

| Model Name              | QTV258 TV Router                                                                                |
|-------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Features         | Wi-Fi Display(Miracast) 、 AirPlay 、 Wi-Fi Direct 、 DLNA 、 Hotspot(Wireless AP) 、 Android TV Box |
| CPU              | MTK Dual-Core Cortex A9 CPU                                                                     |
| GPU              | Mali 400                                                                                        |
| NAND Flash       | 4GB                                                                                             |
| Ram              | 1GB                                                                                             |
| Operating system | Google Android 4.0.4                                                                            |
| HDMI Interface   | HDMI 1.4 (Support 1080p Full HD video)                                                          |
| USB Support      | Support USB HUB (External Power)*                                                               |
|                         | Support USB Keyboard , Mouse                                                                    |
|                         | Support USB Hard Disk (External Power)*                                                         |
| Wi-Fi            | 802.11b/g/n                                                                                     |
| Ports Interface  | 2 x USB 2.0                                                                                     |
|                         | 1 x DC Power                                                                                    |
|                         | 1 x HDMI Female                                                                                 |
|                         | 1 x SD                                                                                          |
|                         | 1*2dbi Wireless Antenna                                                                         |
|                         | 1*RJ45 10/100 Ethernet Port                                                                     |
|                         | Power On/Off Button                                                                             |
| Extend Card      | SD Card , up to 32GB                                                                            |
| Dimension        | 108*108*25mm                                                                                    |
| Weight           | 134g                                                                                            |
| Power            | Input : 12V 1.5A                                                                                |

Note:

(1) A sustained 4-Mbit/s or faster Internet connection is for standard-definition content.
 (2) Television must have available HDMI input.

(3) Use wire or wireless mouse as a remote control.

(4) Some features are available on the devices running the latest operating system.

QTV258 TV Router Smart Your Life

Cross OS Renderer + Miracast + Airplay + Wi-Fi Hotspot + TV Box

• Wi-Fi Display(Miracast)

• Airplay

• TV Router

• TV Box

QTV258